1. For your information, the DCI and DDCI have asked the Council to accomplish, on a priority basis by the end of October, two technical assessments: New Intelligence Community R&D Initiatives; and Intelligence High Technology Possibilities for Low Intensity Conflicts. Therefore, I have asked [redacted] to arrange for the assessment on New R&D Initiatives, and [redacted] to arrange for the assessment on Low Intensity Conflicts. [redacted]

2. I ask that you provide support, as may be required, for the accomplishment of these tasks. [redacted]

Review of New Intelligence Community R&D Initiatives

A technical assessment will be conducted of new Intelligence Community R&D initiatives. The assessment will consist of an examination of new R&D proposals which have been submitted by NFIP components in the FY 1988-89 Budget Forecast, as well as the proposals which will be submitted in the proposed FY 1988-1989 budget. In addition, new initiatives which may not have yet been entered into the program and budget process may be examined.

The assessment will concentrate on major new R&D initiatives which will improve the intelligence process. A report with recommendations will be provided to the Council for review by the end of October.

Intelligence High Technology Possibilities for Low Intensity Conflicts

A technical assessment will be conducted of technology programs to determine where it may be feasible to provide improved intelligence support for Low Intensity Conflicts. The assessment will also determine what R&D efforts are ongoing within the NFIP which in the future may prove to be useful for support of Low Intensity Conflicts.

The assessment, with recommendations, will be provided to the Council for review by the end of October.
